138. MINUTES

Copies of the minutes of the Planning Applications Panel meeting held on 12th January 2017 (M17) had been published to the website following their informal approval by the Chairman and it was

RESOLVED to approve these as a correct record and they were duly signed by the Chairman.

139. PUBLIC ADDRESS/ADDRESS BY OTHER TOWN COUNCILLORS TO PANEL

A Member of the public indicated that they wished to speak and it was proposed, seconded and

RESOLVED to adjourn the meeting.

3 residents of Hodsons Drive, Huntingdon wished to state their concerns over the proposed development of a Bungalow.

The development would be an overbuild of the site as it was a small garden plot. Mrs James felt that the development could affect the amount of daylight into her property and back garden.

Residents highlighted the existing traffic and parking issues within the drive, stating that the road was currently only 4m wide and insufficient for 2 cars to pass, making access difficult. By increasing the number of properties within the drive, parking and traffic problems would be exacerbated and meant that vehicles may not be able to access their own properties and that emergency vehicles would be unable to drive into Hodsons Drive.

Members thanked the residents for their comments and it was proposed, seconded and

RESOLVED to reconvene the meeting.

140. PRESENTATION

Members welcomed Mr Hugo Haig (Lochailort Investments Managing Director), Mr James Croucher (Planning Director) and Mr Steve Mitchell (Master Planner/Architect)

Members were reminded of previous illustrations and ideas for the site, and were informed that following a meeting with HDC and the meeting with the Planning Application Panel in December 2016, feedback had been acknowledged and some changes made.

Lochailort had examined the Sainsbury's application to better understand the boundaries and how the application would have impacted on neighbouring properties.

A Member questioned the potential impact on the neighbouring Almshouses. Mr Mitchell confirmed that the Almshouses had been taken into consideration in the design process. A heritage consultant was engaged to research the local history and buildings with the aim for the new development to reflect and enhance local properties. The Sainsbury's application had proposed a 3-storey building on the boundary with the Almshouses, however the new development was looking at having any development further from the boundary with landscaping between. The proposal featured a 'car barn' which would be the closest structure to the Almshouses. A 'car barn' would be a 3 sided, single storey building with pitched roof, for private car parking.

A Member questioned how secure the car parking would be and if it could be restricted to stop non-residents parking. Mr Mitchell explained that car barns usually add additional security to residents as they are in line with ground floor windows meaning residents can see any cars parked, and that if necessary could be gated to restrict access to residents only.

Members recommended installing fences near the pedestrian access (nr the train station) to minimise walking over the landscaping. Mr Mitchell explained that the site had been designed to encourage movement from the train station to the high-street, and would look at whether fencing could be appropriate. The design of the main street 'Market Street' would be pedestrian friendly to encourage walking, be well lit and well policed to make it a safe option for pedestrians. Lochailort was working with Highways to ensure that road widths, access points and pedestrian use is considered throughout. There would not be additional traffic lights from the development onto the ring road (St Johns Street) but it would feature a pedestrian crossing.

A Member expressed concern over the site being used as a rat run by motorists, however Mr Haig explained that the site could install bollards or gates to restrict vehicle movement through the site.

A Member asked if the site would be adopted or privately managed. Mr Haig explained that development would likely be privately managed as the quality of service to residents is better, giving additional controls over the site management. Residents would be expected to pay a low-level service charge as a high density urban development but the site would be well managed (including communal landscaping, repairs and maintenance). The site would be designed to encourage residents to use the High Street, the Town and local transport links.

A member noted that it was disappointing that the site had changed from an area of employment (previous use) to a vacant lot, and now to be a residential development. Members argued whether the site should have been reserved for commercial development. Mr Haig concluded that the information from HDC showed that there was an overflow of vacant retail sites within the town and that therefore was supportive of the proposed residential development.

A Member requested that consideration be given to the need for local infrastructure, such as GP surgery dentist, schools etc. Mr Haig confirmed that there would be a CIL Levy on the site which would be for infrastructure.

Members thanked Mr Haig, Mr Croucher and Mr Mitchell for their informative presentation.
